Terry has been successful in placing personnel with two Blue Chip Companies where I have been employed.

His knowledge of the industry supports his understanding of your technical needs when placing applicants.

He gets to know you as a client, so he understands how the applicant will fit into the Company and interface with peers

His business model allows for a more personal service and the follow up service on how candidates are working out allows for a continuous relationship with Terry and his Company

Overall Terry and JLC Solutions give a tailored recruitment service which fits with my busy role, so I only get involved with candidates who CAN do what is required.

The CV you wrote for me did help me secure a job. I got hired as an Inventory Controller with a major 3PL and 7 months later I applied for a Warehouse team Leader position on the same contract and got hired for that.

Thanks very much

I found the whole experience of job hunting with JLC Solutions comparatively easy.

I was provided with all the information needed at every stage of the process.

The initial interview was informal and relaxed which allowed for a better flow of information between myself and the consultant (Terry Abra).

Terry was frank about the information that had been provided to him by the company and answered as many questions as he could including a company profile as well as a job profile and as much information as he had picked up during his dealings with the client.

Communication with Terry was swift and any messages or e-mails were dealt with in a timely manner.

Having been through several interviews with other agencies, I can say that the process was simple and efficiently handled by JLC.
